

My Story

Hey, I'm John, 19, from Germany
And I am nothing compared to eternity
This knowledge has usually stood between the world and me
Yesterday I cried about that, today I prefer to be Today I am thankful for my existence
I've got only one life and I use this chance
That doesn't go without saying, I used to miss friends
Although my parents are Christians
To everybody who listens:
The product of the lie of difference is called "distance"
I have to say: I've always known my god
But people would laugh at me if I told this, I thought
I was not just envious of people's ipod
I was ashamed of Jesus, my lord
Now I am ashamed of this great mistake
But it is late and this way's just straight

I was afraid, maybe my friends
Are lost because of my silence
Cause of my talking maybe others
Won't ever be my brothers
I was afraid, but Jesus said
He is greater, he is great
I am afraid, but Jesus' love
Is so much greater, he is love

In my amazing church, everybody's friendly
I've got the best home, an even better family
But there had been times I hadn't seen that
'Cause of many places in life I'd never been at Until God said "Please be patient"
I'd longed for others appreciation
I went further and further and followed my will
Instead of the bible, men were my idol
I was hypocritical, on Sunday
My light shone bright but after night came Monday
At school I played to be cool and tough
But in reality I've never been cool enough
I was neither friend nor enemy
And hated that I meant to be searching for identity
I thought I am to be and only felt lonely
But Gods' holy love is beyond every fantasy

I was afraid of staying alone
I'd better had been praying at home
But the time is gone, now the light is on
Because the fight is won by the mightiest one
I was afraid of losing my life
Soon I'll be glad about choosing my wife
I am afraid, but Jesus' love
Is so much greater, he is love

Oh yes, sometimes I grow less
But no stress, belief is a process
And it's not about me, if I focus
On him I will see I am so blessed
My life is not the most exciting, I'm sorry
But this is my point of view, this is my story
Do you have questions? Ask me later
But don't forget, friends: Our God is greater
